A (Very) Short History

I was born on the 1st of May 2005 and my mum had her first child! After the initial shock excitement I had to try to understand this peculiar world around me.

In an ever changing environment it's nice to have something consistent to hold on to. I prefer something warm with a variety of textures, colours and noises.

My mum must have realised this because one day she made me a lovely blanket with funny loopy things all the way around it! The loops are made of different materials and there is a squeaky thing in it as well. Now I never go anywhere without it.

When my friends came round to do lunch they were very impressed. Mum started making them their own unique items, experimenting with shapes and styles. We all love our loopy toys!
